Elmer Flannery, Charles McGee and others of Humphreys County were in this community Sunday.

Again the death angel, that unrelenting officer of God, has winged his way into our vicinity and plucked from another home a sweet, tender little flower and carried it away to the Master's Heavenly garden, where it will bloom forth into radiant beauty.

This time it was little Katherine Davidson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nosh Davidson. Katherine's stay on earth was very short, only about nine weeks, and almost from the beginning the withering blight of disease was her portion. But now her sufferings are over and she has gone to that celestial world of endless peace and happiness, where sickness is unknown, where death and sad partings never come, but all is one continued day of uninterrupted, supremely blissful happiness.

May God's richest grace and sweetest consolation be the happy portion of loved ones yet on the rugged shores of time and may they with the eye of faith look to yonder sunlit shores of everlasting felicity and there behold their angel darling enjoying all the effulgent beauty of God's bright city, and may that beautiful vision be an inspiration, an incentive to lead them to a higher, nobler life, which will terminate as did little Katherine's, in everlasting joy and peace around the radiant throne of our compassionate Heavenly Father.

CLAY BUSHING,
President
G. GOODMAN,
Secretary

The farmers of this section are waking up to the fact that there is good money in sheep raising, and a number of them have started small flocks. On an investment of about $75 one farmer has realized something like $800 for the lamb and wool sold. Sheep are very little trouble and not much expense. If Benton County had as many sheep as she has cows, our people would have more money jingling in their pockets.

The baggage room in the Union Station in Jacksonville, Florida, was burned in January. A Chicago woman lost sixty trunks of French dresses in the blaze. She was enroute to a point in Florida where the combined value of the trunks would not equal in cost the contents of one trunk of her friends' money.—Denton News.
